The Social Side of Washington

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Washington, D. C., October 29.—This last week in October at the national capital has been fertile in prophecy, there being about as many predictions as to the results of election days as there are districts in which elections are to be held. In only one thing do the prophets agree, and that is opposition to the ex-President, who is trying to discredit the administration of his former friend and "traveling Secretary of War."

Mother and Daughter

Both Glad to Recommend Parisian Sage the Guaranteed Hair Grower and Dandruff Cure

Mrs. J. R. Burgess writes from 514 Plum St., Danville, Va., June 4, 1910.
"I have used Parisian Sage, and find it to be all you claim for it, and cheerfully recommend it to any one who is suffering from any hair, dandruff or scalp trouble."
On the same date Ruth Odille Burgess, the charming little daughter of Mrs. Burgess, wrote:
"I am only a little girl, but I want to tell what Parisian Sage has done for me. I had a scalp disease that looked like dandruff, and when it was combed up there would be a bloody water under the dandruff. Mamma tried everything in the way of hair tonics without results, until she saw the advertisement of Parisian Sage; she got a bottle and it cured me, but kept on using it. Now I have as beautiful a head of hair as any girl."

Men, women and children in every section of America who are using ordinary commercial hair tonics should give Parisian Sage a trial. It is so far ahead of all others that one application will prove its great superiority.
It is guaranteed by Tragle to stop falling hair and itching scalp, and to drive out all dandruff in two weeks or money back. It grows hair in abundance and gives to the hair a lustrous and fascinating appearance, 50 cents a large bottle at Tragle's and druggists everywhere.

reforesting of his State is worthy of emulation as well as national commendation. In preaching conservation in Indiana, Mr. Fairbanks is not creating a mission for himself, but furnishing the necessary leadership for one already at hand. Indeed, the citizens' movement for initiative and progress is independent of legislative machinery and therefore opens a new and promising field for practical expression of local patriotism. It is a tree-planting crusade. If a man who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before, to how many times greater extent is he who covers the denuded soil with grateful shade and awakens among his fellow-citizens an interest that is potential for the transformation of his State? It is, therefore, without fear of contradiction that one declares Mr. Fairbanks never served Indiana, or the country, better than by his practical leadership in a cause destined to add to its industrial value as well as to its physical attraction.

President and Mrs. Taft began their second season in the White House with Mayor and Mrs. Gaynor as house guests for the week-end, during which they specially entertained the Mayor of Tokyo and Madame Oseki. Miss Herron, of Cincinnati, the least well known in Washington of Mrs. Taft's sisters, is also a guest at the White House for the fortnight between the President's return there and his departure for Panama. In the absence of Miss Helen Taft, who made a round of visits to her Bryn Mawr classmates and friends in New York, before coming to Washington for the autumn season, Miss Herron is the constant companion of the first lady of the land. Together they have shopped in democratic fashion, walking to the stores and back to the White House, as in the old days of Mrs. Taft's strength and vigor. By the way, it is wonderfully vigorous, despite the indications of her gray hair, accepted a few of the many invitations that came her way. Among her hosts was Mrs. Beekman Winthrop, wife of the Acting Secretary of the Navy, at whose luncheon on Monday she met most of the official dames now in Washington.

On Tuesday, she accompanied President and Mrs. Taft to the tea given by the officers of the Argentine Republic's naval training ship, Presidentes, from whose shore she was rounded out the day with a visit to the theatre.
An official color note was given the week's events by the presence of Commander Filles and his fellow-officers on the Argentine ship. President Sarmiento. The crowning feature of their stay was the luncheon in honor of the President of the United States, and the tea which followed as a special compliment to Mrs. Taft. Señor Junjito L. Villegas, charge d'affaires of the Argentine legation here, was master of ceremonies on both occasions, and so cleverly arranged the hospitality that the guests and some of his visiting countrymen were able to enjoy also the late afternoon features of the Horse Show. The latter had all the essential attractions of a pure social affair—barring refreshments, of course—and could not fail to have impressed the visiting foreigners with the fact that Americans know how to do things.

Between the acts, Commander Filles and his fellow-officers were presented to the haut monde and exchanged greetings in no less than four languages. They also paid their respects to Mrs. Allen Potts, who, as master of hounds of the Castle Hill (Va.) Hunt, is perhaps the most noted equestrienne in America. Not only as a rider of superb horseflesh, however, is Mrs. Potts noted, for she is the handsome representative of the distinguished Rives family of Virginia, a sister of Amelle Rives, the authoress, a sister Princess Troubetzkoy, and daughter of the late Hon. William C. Rives, for many years American consul-general in Paris.

J. S. James,
"The Diamond Merchant,"
SEVENTH AND MAIN STREETS.

Other out-of-town exhibitors were Miss Amy E. Dixon, a young kinswoman of Senator Dapont, of Delaware; J. B. Andrews, of Charlottesville, Va.; Miss Jeannette Allen, of Washington, who rode the splendid mount of her father, General Allen, U. S. A.; and Miss Katherine Cherbonnier, who did some wonderful jumping stunts. The "daughter of the White House" will assume the duties of Jarrell, who is in this country to represent the British army in recent airship demonstrations. Miss Marjorie Colton, chateleine of the home of her brother, the Governor of Porto Rico, who is the guest of her father for the month of Mrs. George T. Sumner, wife of the first secretary of the American embassy at Tokio, now on a visit to her parents, General and Mrs. John A. Johnston. Lieutenant Charles T. Hutchins and his bride, who will spend the winter here; the new Peruvian charge d'affaires, Madame Allen Kuhl Khan, the latter formerly Florence Breese, of Boston, and Miss Pansy Bloomer, whose recently announced engagement to Mr. Johnson Wood, of Philadelphia, has made her subjects of much friendly comment.

The Peruvian Minister to Panama and Madame Peset, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wilton for a couple of weeks, and been right royally entertained by a host of other friends, made during their residence here as members of the Peruvian legation staff, marked their departure for the former's more recent the Belasco Monday evening, and taking their guests later to supper at the Willard.

Madame Peset, though a Peruvian of straight Castilian descent, is a dainty blonde, many years the junior of her distinguished diplomat-husband, which recalls an incident in her life here, wherein Mr. Peset's pride in her youth and beauty was embarrassed to the discomfiture of a local editor, who had chosen to publish the following: "In a sketch with her photograph: 'She is a brunette with the rich olive complexion for which the women of her race are noted.'"

His only attendant and Dr. Mead Moore was best man. Dr. William S. Hardesty, Sidney Tallaferra, Harlan Moore and Clayton Old, of New York were ushers.

It is only a short time now before the debutants will take their place in the social limelight. Whether or not Miss Helen Taft will be formally "presented" is not officially announced, but those who know her mother best believe that the "daughter of the White House" will assume the duties of a young ladyhood as naturally as the girls of her age do in European capitals.

Senorita Maria Helena Villegas, daughter of the charge d'affaires of the Argentine legation, will lead the diplomatic list of debutantes, and have, perhaps, two followers—Senoritas Florencia Mellan and Celia Mellan Lahnur, daughters of the minister from Uruguay. The last named are absent in their own country, but will return here for the opening of the formal season.

A round of dinners and merry dances are arranged as weapons in the warfare against the very plump list of eligible bachelors in Washington. Captain Archibald Butt, "first aid" to the President and the Beau Brummel of bachelorhood, has a close second developed in Postmaster-General Hitchcock, who, when not engaged in political fence-building and figuring on ways and means of reducing the national postal deficit, is thoroughly at home around the festive board. He can also "trip the light fantastic toe" with the nonchalance of his chief, may goit as well as he, and motor to beat the band, as a society dandy recently expressed it. And, list ye, lawmakers! her mother adds: "He plays the role of society man in general with as much aplomb as if there was no such thing as political promises to redeem at the Federal "le counter."

John Barrett, linguistic chief of the International Bureau of American Republics, is the peer of any one in the bachelor world. So also is the special attaché of the British embassy, Lord Eustace Campbell Percy, heir of the Percy family, distinguished for generations in English history, who recently arrived for his first winter in Washington.

The Russian embassy contributes a real prince to the realm of unmarried men—Prince Nicholas Koudachoff, counselor of the embassy. From the Swiss legation comes Henri Martin, without whom no dinner company of the younger set is complete. An Oriental of Occidental training is Youssof Zia Pacha, the new Turkish ambassador, who will divide honors with the widowed Mexican ambassador, Senor de la Barra. With all these, and "then some," it would seem that the Washington "society" might satiate, and yet one hears frequent regret over the approaching departure of C. C. Arosemena, until recently minister from Panama to this country, now appointed to an important position in the Cabinet of his uncle, the President of Panama. Mr. Arosemena has served many years at this post and will carry with him the good will and regard of a host of friends, who predict further promotions for him at the hands of the baby capule.
